

This is another reason to use BeyondEncryption. When it is time to decommission the PC, you can simply reformat the disk and the information will never be available to recreate for anyone. A non encrypted disk can almost always be restored, even if it has been reformatted.