

The UI can be setup to pull in your AD structure from where you can see what devices have the client installed.